

Hosted by the NSF Center for
Disruptive Musculoskeletal Innovations (CDMI)

CDMI Spring 2022 Virtual Two-Day Symposium

May 19, 2022
10:00am - 12:25pm
(PST)

May 20, 2022
10:00am - 1:00pm
(PST)

Join us for a virtual symposium that includes presentations of faculty proposals, interactions with current IAB members, and discussion around the future and expansion of the CDMI.

Read the agenda @ <https://www.nsfcdmi.org/symposium>

Register @ 2022cdmispringsymposium.eventbrite.com

The NSF Industry-University Cooperative Research Center - Center for Disruptive Musculoskeletal Innovations (CDMI) - represents an exciting and novel integration of injury prevention, healthcare economics, biomedical science, and clinical medicine. Industry advisors collaborate with university researchers to target novel strategies and technologies that will decrease injuries, lower healthcare costs of injuries that do occur, and improve the management and life of patients with musculoskeletal disease. Learn more by visiting nsf.cdmi.org.